

For a greener, cleaner, safer Warrington

BETTER LIVING

- Protect the Green Belt by a brownfield first approach to new development
- Affordable, desirable well-designed homes
- Clearer vision for the town centre
- Enhanced cultural life with diverse events and public art
- Lobby for new hospital and more local health centres

BETTER ENVIRONMENT

- More clean air initiatives and greener public transport
- Design and improve neighbourhoods so that shops and services are accessible on foot or bike within 20 minutes
- Rethink recycling and waste management to reduce impact

BETTER TRANSPORT

- Quicker and more effective pothole repairs
- Work in partnership to ensure canal crossings are clean, reliable and work better
- Affordable and frequent bus services
- Explore possibility of a tram system for the town including links to Manchester and Liverpool

BETTER TRANSPARENCY

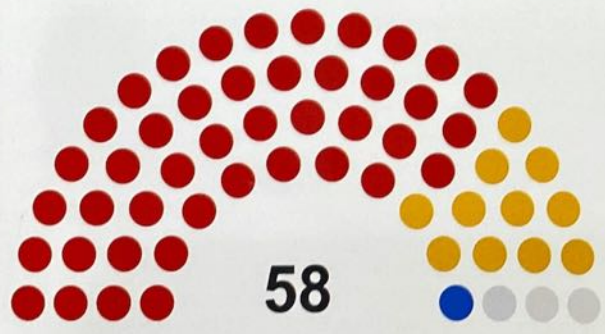

- Insist on broader scrutiny of spending and investments
- Provide greater transparency, wider consultation and more accountability

BETTER COMMUNITIES

- Consult residents in the inner wards about setting up their own Parish or Town Councils to give them a greater role in decision-making for their areas
- Increase collaboration between Warrington and Parish or Town Councils to work more effectively together particularly on environmental matters

JO CONCHIE

FOR CHESHIRE POLICE & CRIME COMMISSIONER

Jo CONCHIE

- 1. Feel safe at home and in your community
By tackling burglary, harassment and anti-social behaviour, domestic violence against men and women, and by taking real action on speeding, fly-tipping and dog theft - all by having a bigger police presence locally to you.
- 2. Have the law work for you
By giving you a real insight on how the force operates so that you can see how your hard-earned money is being spent.
- 3. Have a greater focus on the victims of crime
By offering compassion focused resolution rather than just giving out a crime number

Jo wants to prevent crime, protect people and engage with communities. She believes that everybody should feel safe at home, work and in their community. She also feels strongly that law should work for residents. There should be a greater level of transparency and community consultation, to build trust and efficiency.

"Cheshire hasn't had a female Police and Crime Commissioner yet. The recent case of Sarah Everard has highlighted just how many women feel unsafe when out and about. As a woman I know first-hand how it feels in a way that only women can truly understand. I would come at the role with a fresh perspective on many similar issues. I have a Law degree and trained to be a barrister so that I could fight for justice. I decided to do a masters degree in Criminology and Criminal Psychology so that I could research and focus on the causes of crime, with a view to preventing criminal activity before it takes place".

Over the last 7 years Jo has worked on the front-line with police officers from forces all around the country, seen first-hand the challenges that officers face and the support that they need to allow them to fight crime effectively.

For both the Borough and Parish Councils

Graham Gowland

Graham and his wife Tracy, a Retail Department Manager, live at 32 Wychwood Avenue. They have a son and a daughter at Cherry Tree School. With a degree in Hospitality Business Studies, he works as a Senior Risk Manager. Graham is extremely active in the community. He is Chair of the Lymm Royal British Legion, Chair of 3rd Lymm Scouts, a former Chair of Lymm Round Table and a former primary school governor. He played a crucial role in setting up 'Leave No-one Behind in Lymm' and remains heavily involved in its management. He is part of the team that has delivered 'Heartstart' first aid training in the village for the last 8 years. Graham has been a Parish Councillor for 5 years. He has been active on many issues including car-parking, saving the Library and more recently working with residents on flooding issues. On a wider political level he was Chair of 'Warrington for Europe'. Graham says, "Lymm is a lovely place and I want to keep it that way while ensuring we keep up to date. I want people to be aware of the subjects under discussion and that their voice is heard."

Tim Martland

Tim and Rebecca, a Teacher, live at 5 Dingle Bank Close. His son and daughter both went to Ravenbank School. He qualified from Edinburgh University and until his recent retirement worked as a Consultant Paediatrician in Manchester. Tim is currently training NHS staff and volunteers how to vaccinate plus taking occasional clinics at Warrington Hospital to help cover health service needs caused by the pandemic. He is a keen trail and ultra marathon runner and particularly loves running in the mountains of the Lake District where he grew up. Another interest is travel which is on hold for now. A member of Lymm Runners for the last ten years, he was Chair from 2017 to earlier this year. Tim was co-opted to the Parish Council last autumn and since then has taken an active role in planning and environmental matters. He says, "The health and wellbeing of children and young people is a particular concern of mine. The future of Lymm is for its young people. They need green spaces, clean air, a thriving village centre and better public transport".

For the Parish Council - you have 6 votes

Ann Johnstone

Ann lives at 3 Lakeside Road. She has two grown-up sons one of whom lives in Lymm. The other son and her two grandchildren live in Norway and Ann is looking forward to visiting them again. She has a degree in Public Relations and owned her own public relations company until her retirement. For 6 years she was an elected member of the Outdoor Industries Association National Council. Ann is a Trustee of Lymm Festival and organises the Foodfest event. She is a member of Lymm Jubilee WI, a volunteer Room Guide at Dunham Massey and a past member of Lymm High School PTA. Ann is a Parish Councillor and serves as the Chair of the Environment Committee. She says, "I am committed to working with local traders and residents to improve the environment, save energy and recycle more rubbish to ensure our lovely village continues to thrive".

Sally Sharma

Sally is married to Sachin who works as Primary School Teacher. They have two children and live at 5 Baycliffe. She is a member of the Lymm Festival Committee and a Street Champion for the 'Leave No-one Behind in Lymm' group. She set up a WhatsApp group to help neighbours look after each other by improving communications. Sally's interests include reading, singing and walking. She says, "Having owned my own hairdressing business for 10 years, I am particularly interested in helping local business owners by supporting their needs. By doing this we can build a strong local business community which will be of benefit to the whole village. As a parish councillor I will be able to provide support in many ways to local residents and I look forward to doing this."

Ben Selwood

Ben is aged 28 and lives at 44 The Crescent. He was educated at Lymm High School and has a degree in Business Management and Finance. He works as a Materials Technician. Ben founded Lymm in Bloom in 2012 and has been a great credit to the village winning awards for many years. He is also on the Dickensian Committee and is a member of Lymm Festivities Group. His interests include gardening, civic pride, the environment and retail and social histories. Ben says, "I feel passionately that we need a vibrant and colourful village centre where businesses can flourish and which is attractive to both local people and visitors. Parks and green spaces must be protected and enhanced".

Joan Stocker

Joan and her husband Geoff live at 10 Quayside Mews. They have two grown-up children and two grandchildren who attend local schools. She has a degree in Chemistry from Manchester University and worked as a Teacher until her retirement. She served as a County Councillor in Cumbria for 12 years, including time as Deputy Leader, and as a Parish Councillor in Windemere for 30 years. They are both members of the United Reform Church, volunteers at the Heritage Centre, volunteers for Lymm Festival and Transport Day and members of the Lymm Wine and Beer Circle. Joan is a member of Lymm Inner Wheel, a board member of Lymm Community Energy. She says, "Lymm has a very active community which we have joined since moving here. The Parish Council can support local events and groups and help bring light and hope after the last year."
